Truck crane driver– loading and unloading

Well educated employees are able to deliver safe and high-qualified work. Therefore, it is important that employees are able to meet the latest safety regulations. Additionally, the employer has the obligation that he is able to prove that the driver of the truck crane is sufficiently educated according to the working conditions act. Therefore, drivers of commercial vehicles with a truck crane or a grapple bin need to have a valid certificate and safety pass.

Participants will receive a certificate and a safety pass if they followed the course “working safely with the truck crane” successfully.

European Guideline Professional competence 2003/59

According to the European Guideline Professional competence 2003/59, it is obligatory for professional drivers to attend at least 35 hours of refreshing courses in 5 year time in order to maintain their Professional competences.
